

First Pope to Leave Vatican In 59 Years

Vatican City, July 25 (AP).—Pope Pius XI, the first Pontiff to emerge from the Vatican since the fall of temporal power in 1870, came out of St. Peter's Basilica this evening, marking to an end the long voluntary imprisonment of the head of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Pontiff, bearing the Sacred Rite, followed a religious procession along the Sistine colonnades and St. Peter's Square, blessed a huge throng which packed the historic place with numbered thousands.

The Pope came out through the central bronze door of the Basilica at the end of a long procession which had been formed inside. First came a small detachment of the Swiss Guard in the brilliant costumes designed for them by Michael Angelo nearly four centuries ago.

Then came a ceremonial officer of the Papal court and a procession of various representatives of the religious orders, chaplains of various churches, officials of the Holy See, archbishops and bishops including a number of American prelates.

Then in a blaze of purple came the cardinals, well ahead of the Pope came incense-bearers and members of the ceremonial department.

St. Louis Robin On Its 13th Day

St. Louis, July 25 (AP).—Announcing in notes dropped this morning that "everything is fine" and the motor was "showing no signs of giving in," Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brien piloted their St. Louis Robin on into the thirteenth day of their endurance flight above Lambert-St. Louis Field today.

At 10:17 a. m. (C. S. T.) the fliers completed 251 hours in the air and had exceeded the former world's endurance mark by 44 hours, or nearly 2 days.

O'Brien inquired in a message as to the progress being made by the Houston, Texas, endurance plane, "Billion Dollar City," now well up toward the 200 hour mark, and added: "You know we can't land with them up, they might pass us and that will never do."

Has Sales Agency for Chrysler and Plymouth Cars—Mr. Kennedy Will Devote Attention to Sale of Radios.

Merritt Every of Port Ewen has leased the Central Garage property at Broadway and East St. James street from O. M. Kennedy, owner, for a six-year period and will conduct the garage having sales agency for the Chrysler and Plymouth automobiles. At present Mr. Every is not able to state whether he will continue his Port Ewen business or whether he will dispose of it.

Probing Fatal Auto Mishap

Albany, July 25 (AP).—An investigation was under way today into the automobile accident late last night on the Albany-Pittsfield highway, near Nassau, in which two persons were killed and three injured.

The dead were:

Forrest N. Stillman, 24, of Pittsfield, Mass. Fractured skull.

Mildred Weiss, 18, of Lenox, Mass. Fractured skull.

The injured:

Lillian Roberts, 20, of Pittsfield, Lacerations.

Thompson N. Shaw, of Pittsfield, Fractured leg and lacerations.

Frank L. Durkee, Pittsfield, Lacerations.

Coroner John J. Skelly said all were riding in an auto driven by Stillman when it left the road and crashed into a pole. Miss Roberts and Durkee were taken to the scene of the accident and both said they could not explain how it happened. Shaw, in a hospital here, told authorities he would not discuss the crash with them.

Stillman and Miss Weiss were picked up by Stuart C. Mock of Schenectady, who was en route from Pittsfield to Albany. They were found on the highway and Mock reported he did not see an automobile. A few minutes later John Minkler of Nassau came along, saw the machine and exclaimed: "The car is on fire!" Troopers learned that the Stillman party left Pittsfield about 11 p. m. for a ride to Albany.

Loomis and Joe Giam laid fast to their declaration that they planned to stay up long enough to beat whatever mark the St. Louis Robin may set. The ship had been aloft 180 hours at 4:54 a. m.

Sixth Reunion Of 51st Pioneers Here August 18

Peter Keresman Expected to Be Elected Third Vice President—Origin of 51st Pioneers—August 15 Final Date for Reservations.

PETER KERESMAN.

The members of the 51st Pioneer Infantry are anxiously waiting for August 18, when the boys will meet here in annual session at the sixth reunion of the 51st Pioneer Infantry Association. The local committees under the guidance of Charles T. Dixon, general chairman, are working hard to make this one even better than the first which was held here when members formed the 51st Pioneer organization.

One important matter has practically been settled and the members will sit back and smile when they know the feed which is one of the features of the reunion, will be held at Watson Hollow Inn. This is an ideal spot on the south side of the Ashokan reservoir and those who attend the first reunion know what an excellent dinner was served. Plans are being made to accommodate about two hundred members who are expected to be in attendance.

During the morning a business session will be held in the armory at which time officers will be elected and the general order of business taken up. As has been the custom in years past the third vice president is elected from the place where the reunion is held and this year Kingston will have the honor of electing a man to that office. Some mention has been made among the members of this city that the logical one for the office from here is Peter Keresman, who served with Company F. Mr. Keresman has been an ardent worker in the organization since it was organized, working hard to help make not only the first reunion a success but taking a big interest in the succeeding ones. It is not expected that there will be any opposition for the office but that his candidacy will meet with the approval of the members who reside here.

It is planned to have Mayor Dempsey officially welcome the members to Kingston.

Origin of the 51st.

The 51st Pioneer Infantry was composed of men from the various cities and towns in the Hudson valley from Albany to New York. At the time war was declared, it was the Tenth New York Infantry, but after the declaration of war it was federalized and called the 51st Pioneer Infantry. The regiment was sent to Camp Wadsworth, South Carolina, where it was given intensive training and prepared for overseas service. Company F of this city was one of the units with the large contingent who left in May, 1918, were sent to the regiment to bring it up to war strength. The outfit saw overseas service for about a year, the companies doing various lines of work necessary toward the winning of the war. After the signing of the Armistice the regiment was one of the units of the Army of Occupation, serving on German territory for over five months, stationed along the Moselle River from Cochem to Guls, near Coblenz. On account of replacements, the regiment at the end of the war was composed of men from coast to coast.

Mail Notices This Week.

It is expected that notices for the reunion will be mailed this week to those who were in attendance last year and as many others as it has been possible to get the address of. Any who do not receive a notice would do well to send a card to the general chairman of the reunion addressing it care of the armory, if they expect to attend. In order to get some idea on how many will be at the reunion, August 18 has been set for the final date for reservations.

The local committees will hold another meeting soon to go over all the plans to make sure that everything will be all right. When this meeting is called it is hoped that there will be a large turnout of members here so that final plans can be made and everyone will know just what he is expected to do that day.

Chinese Fire on Soviet Airplanes

London, July 25 (AP).—Heuter's dispatches from Tokyo this afternoon quoted a telegram from Manchuria, Manchuria, saying Chinese troops had fired on five Soviet airplanes which appeared over the border town about 7 a. m. Later in the morning distant sounds of firing were heard but they died down shortly afterward.

The shooting was believed to have been caused by the excitability and nervousness of the Chinese troops. The newspaper Nichi in a special dispatch from Manchuria said Russian and Chinese troops had opened fire on each other when sixteen Russian airplanes appeared over the city.

Col. Lindbergh Photographs Old Indian Ruins

Santa Fe, N. M., July 25 (AP).—Indian ruins that were old before Cortez and his band made their way into the southwest have been photographed from the air with an ultra-modern aerial camera by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

Colonel Lindbergh brought the films here yesterday. They were developed in the laboratory of the American School of Research.

With the announcement of the pictures was revealed the latest invocation of modern science in the study of antiquity. Lindbergh's pictures, destined for the Carnegie Institute and photographs taken from another plane for the American School of Research were pronounced by Dr. E. L. Hewett, of the Board of Research, the first successful application of aerial photography to archaeological purposes.

Photographs of entire districts from the air, taking a few hours, revealed all the information which could be gained by weeks or months of travel over the same districts, Dr. Hewett said.

In addition, the aerial photographs reveal traces of ruins which might easily be passed over by a trained archaeologist on the ground.

Students of the University of New Mexico, under the guidance of Dr. Hewett, have uncovered a three-story stone tower, with underground passages and a huge kiva, an underground ceremonial chamber, said to be the largest ever discovered in this state, at Chetro Kett, on the Navajo Indian reservation in Chaco Canyon.

Whether Colonel Lindbergh's entrance into the field of archaeology is to be of any permanence, or the extent of his connection, if any, with the School of Research, was not disclosed and Lindbergh refused to discuss the matter.

Addressing the house of commons, Premier MacDonald announced that Great Britain and America had agreed upon parity, qualified by a degree of elasticity to meet the needs of both nations, as the underlying principle of disarmament discussions. He said further that work on two British cruisers was to be suspended, the construction of a submarine depot ship and two submarines cancelled and dockyard work retarded. In addition he announced his intention of visiting the United States in October.

Quick to respond, President Hoover announced that the construction of three cruisers of this year's building program would be postponed until there is an opportunity to consider their effect upon an agreement for parity, which, he added, he expected to be reached. He welcomed MacDonald's proposed visit and spoke of the "real satisfaction" with which he had read press reports of the prime minister's address.

The cruisers referred to by the president are among those authorized by the fifteen cruiser law, which specified that they should be laid down at stated intervals within a period of three years. Mr. Hoover can postpone their construction until the end of the current fiscal year, more than eleven months away. In the meantime he hopes for important developments in the move for a disarmament agreement. The original intention was to begin work on the vessels in the fall.

On Capitol Hill there was much favorable comment of both parties on the day's developments. Objection was voiced by Chairman Britten of the house naval committee, who is visiting on Long Island.

The "Unloaded" Revolver Again

Allentown, Pa., July 25 (AP).—Captain William Kiehl, widely known life-saving instructor and field representative of the American Red Cross, was fatally wounded here today while demonstrating to Allentown police the method of getting away from a man holding a pistol to one's back. The revolver used in the demonstration, thought to have been unloaded, contained a bullet.

Patrolman Aaron Xander was holding the revolver. Kiehl told him to pull the trigger as he executed the maneuver he was demonstrating, and the bullet penetrated Kiehl's spine at the small of the back.

Kiehl fell to the floor but did not lose consciousness and directed the ambulance men who took him to a hospital. He died an hour after his arrival.

Captain Kiehl was in this city to give a life saving demonstration before the Kiwanis Club.

PRIEST DROWNS WHEN SEIZED WITH FADING SPELL

Naples, N. Y., July 25 (AP).—A verdict of accidental death was given today by Coroner A. M. Stewart in the drowning late yesterday afternoon of the Rev. J. Edward Brayer, rector of St. Mary's Church at Geneseo, and formerly of Rochester.

The priest was visiting at Woodville on Canandaigua lake and was fishing with his 14 year old nephew from Corning, about fifty feet from shore, when he was seized with a fainting spell, according to Dr. Stewart, and plunged into the lake. Cottagers rushed to his rescue and his body was recovered in about five minutes in 15 feet of water. Two hours of artificial respiration by members of a nearby Boy Scout camp failed to revive him.

JUDGE DISCHARGES JURY IN REYNOLDS CASE

London, July 25 (AP).—The manslaughter trial of Richard Joshua Reynolds, wealthy 23-year-old American, came to an abrupt and sensational end today. The judge discharged the jury and adjourned the case for re-trial when it was reported to him the jury foreman had been seen in conversation last night with two witnesses for the defense.

Justice Humphreys, the trial judge, said that under the circumstances the trial could not proceed. It was shown him one of the defense witnesses seen talking to the foreman was a friend of the foreman.

DR. MAYO SAYS MIDDLE CLASS NOT DRINKING.

Manchester, England, July 25 (AP).—Dr. William Mayo of Rochester, Minn., thinks the temperance movement is doing very well in the United States.

Speaking today at the annual breakfast of the National Temperance League he said:

"The great middle class in America is no longer drinking. The class at the top and the dregs at the bottom are still at it."

"The saloon is gone and no one wants it back. Liquor is scarce and what there is is not safe."

Anita Stewart Weds George Converse

Hollywood, Cal., July 25 (AP).—The latest film colony's newweds, Anita Stewart and George Converse, were on an automobile honeymoon today with no particular destination in mind. The stage and screen actress was married to the New York banker in a private wedding at high noon yesterday. A sound and picture record was made of the ceremony.

United States Delays Start on Three Cruisers

President Meets Great Britain's Move Toward Naval Reduction by Postponing Construction of New Ships.

Washington, July 25 (AP).—Pledges of curtailed naval building from both Great Britain and America were halted in Washington today as indications of an approaching agreement upon the troublesome problem of disarmament.

Even more significant, perhaps, was the new spirit of cordiality and cooperation that has entered the negotiations and has been interpreted by President Hoover as evidence that the two nations are no longer to be competitors in the construction of vessels of war but are to work together as friends in reducing their number.

With the promulgation of the Kellogg treaty relegating warfare to a place beyond the pale of the laws of nations came important pronouncements upon which are planned the hopes of both governments that an agreement is not far away.

Addressing the house of commons, Premier MacDonald announced that Great Britain and America had agreed upon parity, qualified by a degree of elasticity to meet the needs of both nations, as the underlying principle of disarmament discussions. He said further that work on two British cruisers was to be suspended, the construction of a submarine depot ship and two submarines cancelled and dockyard work retarded. In addition he announced his intention of visiting the United States in October.

Quick to respond, President Hoover announced that the construction of three cruisers of this year's building program would be postponed until there is an opportunity to consider their effect upon an agreement for parity, which, he added, he expected to be reached. He welcomed MacDonald's proposed visit and spoke of the "real satisfaction" with which he had read press reports of the prime minister's address.

Two Men Hurt In Auto Crash

John J. McAndrew and James A. Molyneux, Arc in the Benedictine With Injuries Received When Auto Turns Over.

John J. McAndrew of 156 Highland avenue and James A. Molyneux of 106 Albany avenue, were taken to the Benedictine Hospital early Wednesday morning following an accident at Glencliff in which the car of Michael A. Brown of 340 Broadway was involved. Both men were injured about the head and face and Mr. McAndrew was also injured about the back.

The accident happened about 2:15 o'clock in the morning while the Willis-Knight sedan of Brown was being operated toward Kingston. While on the hill near the Gregory Clark Garage the driver of the Willis-Knight came upon several ice cream trucks which were traveling along the road. He did not observe the trucks until close and he then applied his brakes with considerable force. The car skidded and turned over after turning around several times in the road and running up a bank along the road.

First aid was given by Mrs. Clark at the Clark home and later a passing car conveyed the injured to the hospital.

If rain interferes with the Fair Grounds boxing program tonight, the fights will be held Friday. Despite the fact that the weather bureau forecasted local thunder showers this afternoon or tonight, Bill Singer, promoter, took an optimistic view and had the ring erected and other arrangements completed for tonight. It is hoped that the weather will be favorable for the card promises to be a real good one.

John Baumann of Cato, Ill., arrested for passing the red light at the Roundout Creek Bridge on Wednesday, forfeited $5 each but by failure to appear in court.

Irene Tolliver and Minnie Vaughn, negroes of 17 West Strand, who were arrested on complaint of Minnie Anderson, a negro residing at 113 Abel street, who charged they had called her wife names, were found guilty and sentenced to ten days each in the county jail after a hearing Wednesday. The serving of the jail sentence was suspended.

Not Easy to Cut Expenses

President Hoover's Army Commission Will Have Its Hands Full in Carrying out Economy Plan.

Washington, July 25 (AP).—Plenty of trouble faces President Hoover's Army Commission charged with cutting military expenditures.

Already the pruning knife has been directed at some of the many garrison posts scattered throughout the western states. These states in Congress by some veteran administration leaders.

If the Commission's axe falls in this direction, a storm of protest is in prospect in Congress. But Senator Bingham, Republican, Conn., one of the most active preparedness men in Congress, has declared this should be one of the ways for greater economy if there must be economy.

He insists that the lessons of the World War show that training units should be in larger groups, and thinks three main divisions points of the army, in the east, in the south and in the far west, are enough. Many of the 70 or 80 garrison posts scattered over the country, he says, are relics of Indian warfare days.

Opposition to an extensive paring down already has been voiced by Chairman Reed of the Senate Military Committee, who fears a corresponding reduction in efficiency.

Then, too, there is the prospect of sharp division within the army itself. Inevitably, it is felt, the commanders of various units will move to protect their forces if they are threatened before the commission, and their views undoubtedly will be reflected on Capitol Hill.

One-way traffic is still maintained from Winchell's corner west to the end of the new pavement, a distance of about a mile. The delay to traffic is usually not more than five minutes. Traffic is lagged through the short one-way stretch.

Start Work on 9-W from Bridge To Ulster Park

Large Portion Runs Through Entirely New Territory and Will Not Interfere With Traffic—Little Delay After Old Road Is Torn Up.

Construction work on a new 9-W highway from the Roundout Creek bridge south to Ulster Park was commenced Wednesday by the contractors. Work will be confined to the grading and running of the new alignment until after Labor Day when the work will be taken up on the other portions and rushed through. The contractors expect to commence work on the new alignment at the 10th N. Winfield farm and work north past Golden Puddle and through to the old alignment just south of Port Ewen village. This portion of the road runs through entirely new territory and will not interfere with traffic. There will be considerable work to do on this section establishing grades and placing sub-bases. This section of the route was bid in by the Lane Construction Company of Meriden, Conn., the same firm which originally laid the improved road.

Disarmament The Next Step

Former Secretary Kellogg Says General Naval Disarmament Should Naturally Follow Peace Pact.

Washington, July 25 (AP).—Naval disarmament among the nations of the world is regarded by Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state, as a natural step to follow the general treaty for the renunciation of war and one which should be pushed by the naval powers.

Mr. Kellogg, whose name is linked with that of Foreign Minister Briand of France in the popular title of the treaty, came to Washington at the invitation of President Hoover and Secretary Stimson to witness the ceremony of the final proclamation of the pact for which he worked so strenuously while in office.

"At the outset," he told The Associated Press in an interview, "I want to express my full appreciation of the efforts of Foreign Minister Briand of France in the part which he played in cooperating in the final consummation of the effort toward the preservation of world peace."

"Mr. Briand first initiated the peace effort in his message to the American people through The Associated Press on the occasion of the anniversary of America's entrance into the World War a little more than two years ago. Since that time, we have seen the pact accepted by nearly all of the nations of the world and I am entirely confident that it will be accepted by all of the nations."

Asked what he considered the most effective way of making the treaty a certain means of preserving peace, he pointed out that its value had been demonstrated in two major world disputes which have developed since it was signed in Paris last August. He remarked that it had played a large part in leading toward an amicable settlement of the present breach between China and Russia and said he believed it also influenced the preservation of peace between Bolivia and Paraguay in their dispute last December.

New Hat Silhouettes Are Youthful and Flattering.

New York—The woman who "looks better in a large hat" has had a dreary time of it lately. Hats are getting wider, which makes for a more flattering effect generally speaking. Also a hint of trimming and a softened line helps the average woman. All these and much more are in the office.

Taking Paris as a criterion, women have dressed more formally than they have since pre-war days. The felt hat has been relegated to sports and to complement the morning toilette, still a very fashionable French costume. For luncheon and after, hats like the dresses with which they are worn are decidedly more dressy, many straws being seen as well as some of circle lace and other novelties.

Everybody who is at all versed on fashion information realizes the struggle straw went through before it was made welcome, and the battle for existence velvet put up to be allowed to live in the millinery workroom. Straw finally won out and velvet seems reasonably sure of being Paris!

One of the newest things in Paris right at this minute is Louiseboulanger's rigger brown, tiered dress with two tiered skirt trimmed with shawl, and a short suit jacket to go with it. Paris!

Hats Become Wider at the Side as Shown in This Turban of Felt and Satin.

decidedly among those present when fall hat boxes are unpacked. Solid and certain plumes manipulated to look like flat furs are not pleasant to contemplate on a hot day, but are none the less highly desirable "come autumn."

There has existed a prejudice against the trimmed hat because it seemed matronly. This prejudice has been swept aside as is the present way of prejudices and one gets the effect of youth or maturity independently of the trimming—the line being responsible for the impression. Since wide sided, off the face hats are scoring heavily, there seems little danger of a too mature impression, particularly since some shapes are frankly adapted from baby bonnets.

The re-entry of the coquettish nose veil is a pleasant prospect. (Copyright, 1929, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Lace Trimmings Used on Fashionable Underthings

The legend that lingerie follows the mode is generally accepted in modern fashions, observes a Paris fashion writer in the Louisville Courier-Journal. Certainly it is the highest function of modern underthings to be present but not accounted for, and no matter what individual whims may be occasioned by novel outerwear styles, the fundamental purpose of lingerie is to screen its presence modestly.

Which means briefly that underthings must be made of the most generous of fabrics and be curtailed to an acute degree. Beyond that there is neither inhibition nor restraining dicta, and the most ingenious and often startling styles may be indulged.

One outstanding note of the newest lingerie is the use of lace as a trimming. This lace is always tinted, frequently in some old ivory tones. Sturdy laces with solid, flat or raised designs on a net background, such as Blanche, Alencon or Racine, are generally employed.

One-piece combinations are still smart, and some unusual models from Worth are cut full at the skirt part and are shorter waisted than heretofore. In addition there are slip chemises with culottes to match. For evening wear the back of the neck opening is cut low and pointed. Rouff shows knickers gathered into deep lace bands narrowed in above the knees. No petticoats are used, but in many cases petticoat effects are featured on combinations as well as on culottes. The lace used is rather deep and is placed at the neck opening and at the hem. Laces with elaborate, pointed edges are chosen and are disposed upside down so that the irregular border, finely inserted into the fabric, forms an attractive design.

The same trimming is found on night-dresses that are straight and sleeveless. A very exquisite detail on these is a lace pocket placed at one side.

The principal fabrics used for these garments are washable crepe de chine and triple voile. For formal wear georgette crepe and, more particularly, crepe satin, are employed. For summer wear silk voiles and chiffons printed with pompom motifs promise to be unusually popular.

All this lingerie is generally developed in flesh tones of pink chosen to suit the complexion, but colors such as turquoise blue, grasshopper green, mauve and apricot are also shown.

Openwork stitchings are used to trim sports combinations and stepins, severe looking pajamas and night-gowns.

Dressing gowns are made of quilted, heavy crepes in pastel tones, embroidered in large geometric stitched designs. Others are ornamented with raised, corded designs.

Eggshell, Powder Shades Popular in New Gloves

Gloves are taking on a new importance since the advent of the sleeveless frock for summer wear. The eggshell and powder shades are at present in great favor, while many in ivory tones are to be seen, with fancy stitching in black, navy blue or other colors. The slip-on styles with ends finished with piping or even just pointed are being displayed.

For wear with a fancy chiffon dress there are gloves with cuffs made elaborate with embroidery or beading of cut-work designs, which are endorsed by some of the outstanding designers. The one-button glove fitting snugly at the wrist shows to advantage the new cuff styles and at the same time emphasizes the sleeveless effect. To wear with the long-sleeved dresses gloves of the same color are chosen, but with simpler cuffs. For wear with sports costumes the slip-on styles take preference, in various colors and leathers.

Sophistication
A careful examination of several explanations of the meaning of sophistication leads to the conclusion that if you don't know much, and pretend you do, you are sophisticated.—Beckwith Democrat and Chronicle.

Earliest Savings Banks
It was in 1799 that Rev. Joseph Smith of Wendenor, England, began taking care of the savings of his parishioners throughout the summer and Christmas, adding a third to the total of each deposit. A few years later Rev. Henry Duncan of Scotland began traveling throughout the land to promote the establishment of savings banks for the poor. The first institution of the sort in America was organized in 1816, chiefly by Condy Raguet, an American diplomatic and economic writer.

Christy Circus Here August 3

The Christy Bros. Big Five Ring Animal Circus will be here Saturday, August 3 for two performances. The Christy Bros. Circus is the only large circus in all the world that still stages a street parade, as G. W. Christy, the circus veteran who is the manager of this national organization, and was born and reared under the flapping canvas walls of a circus tent contends that circus day without a parade is cheating the youngsters out of one of their inalienable rights. And therefore this is one circus that will always have a street parade with its scores of open cages filled with savage beasts and its five bands stationed at the proper distance apart to produce a continual fanfare of real circus music, music that never stops, and is full of life and lift and pep. Not overlooking 25 mastodon elephants.

One of the hits of the present season is the 100 horse act under the tutelage of Merritt Belew, the most famous of all trainers, another hit is the 50 dancing girls and dancing horses. The five herds of elephants in the five rings at the same time with many most amazing stunts and Miss Jumbo the largest and oldest of all elephants, the wild animal acts in the steel arena is another thriller, and the Brock Troupe of acrobats keep the lofty dome of the canvas alive with flying forms.

Performances are scheduled for two for the afternoon and eight for the night shows. Doors will open an hour earlier so that all may leisurely visit the menagerie. And every child attending the matinee will receive a ride on the baby elephant or on one of the tiny ponies.

PUBLIC GROWING WARY OF RECENT MERGERS

New York (AP).—Brokers say that plain, ordinary mergers are no longer enough to boost the stocks of companies concerned.

For several years, particularly during the last six months, any merger or hint of a merger regardless of its economic strategy, has been sufficient excuse for substantial increases in the value of securities to be affected. Brokers' customers are beginning to distinguish between good, bad and indifferent mergers.

They no longer stop with the question: "Is this or that consolidation going to occur?" but want to know just how earnings per share will be benefited by the change.

Ralph B. Leonard & Company suggest the following four questions to be answered before buying bank stocks on a merger rumor:

- (1) Will the merger bring supplementary banking functions of two or more institutions under one roof?
- (2) Would greater resources and a heightened lending capacity meet pressing needs of some of the larger depositors of the banks?
- (3) Has one of the banks named as a party to the proposed merger, a strong list of branches?
- (4) Would the proposed merger bring to an international bank a local banking clientele?

Minister, Run-down in Health, Gains 7 Lbs. in 3 Weeks

Rev. W. H. Taylor writes: "After a 3 weeks' vacation campaign I was entirely run-down and being fresh rapidly. I decided to give myself a 3 weeks' trial. After 2 weeks I found my strength returning and the tired feeling gone. In 3 weeks I had gained 7 lbs. and was myself again."

Imagine just 3 weeks to change from a "skinny", tired person to a strong, well-filled-out man or woman. Fatly hollows vanish. Broomstick limbs become round and chubby. Tired feeling disappears. Blushed skin clears.

"PINEAPPLE" CROP OF CHICAGO GROWS.

—T—Chicago crop of "pineapples"—quiet name for the "pincapples"—has shown an increase both in production and effectiveness this year.

Despite election promises that the "pineapple" would cease to menace the property and health of Chicagoans, the number of bombings and resultant damage showed an increase in the first six months of 1929 over the similar period last year, according to Thomas Q. Beesley, an investigator for the Chicago Employers' Association.

From January to July, 1928, bombings scored 24, while the first half of this year "pineapples" bloomed in 60 spots, Beesley said. In the 1928 period, the average damage was $360 and this year $1,428. The perpetrators of the year's bombings all have escaped prosecution thus far, Beesley added.

In his successful election camaign, John A. Swanson, state's attorney, promised war on racketeering and a racket court was established to aid him.

Beesley said $6 rackets are operating in Chicago and that of the 22 cases referred to the racket court, nine persons have been indicted, none convicted. He credited publicity with driving 57 rackets out of business.

Bombings have been the chosen answer of racketeers to those who defy them.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Toronto—When an ape takes a dislike for a male, bystanders should beware. There are four stitches in Neil Farborough's thigh. In a hand-to-hand act the ape leaped at a kicking mule. Neil tried to separate them and was bitten by the ape.

Media, Pa.—Bees have been obtaining liquid nourishment from wet clothes hung in back yards to dry. And so upper Darby township has gone to law seeking to compel Louis W. Mills, Jr., apiarist, to move his swarms elsewhere.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y.—A clash between a steamroller and an airplane seems to have been a draw. One was cruising at two miles an hour. The other was slipping out of the skies at about 35 for landing. The smokestack was knocked off and the engineer put in a hospital. The fuselage was battered and one wing smashed.

Montreal—By plane from Detroit to the Canadian open golf tournament have come Mr. and Mrs. George Von Elm, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Armour and Al Watrous. The trip was in L. P. Fisher's 12 passenger craft.

Conneaut Lake Park, Pa.—Tom McKim has made a hole in one, but not the one he aimed at. His tee shot stopped 225 yards away in the pocket of J. N. White.

New York—There is a Bible in every room in Henry Ford's house. He reads from some one of them every day, having taken a wartime pledge with President Wilson to do so. The Christian Register so discloses in an interview.

Constantinople—Having killed his 19-year-old aunt to avenge the family honor because she rode astride, a 17-year-old schoolboy is on trial for murder.

Cape Town, South Africa—Professor W. E. Dixon is inclined to blame use of tea and coffee instead of beer for the tendency of highly civilized nations to become super-sensitive and neurotic. He gave his views before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, pointing out that since the 17th century the use of tea and coffee had increased while the use of beer had diminished.

North Caldwell, N. J.—Colonel Lindbergh has been negotiating for the purchase of a 26-roomhouse atop a mountain. It was built three years ago at a cost of $100,000. There is to be a flying field two miles away.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

RACE PREJUDICE

A social worker in one of the industrial institutes in a large Eastern city recently reported two instances of race prejudice which came under his personal supervision. The first case was that of a boy sixteen years of age who had secured a position under an assumed American name of "Leary Armstrong." The social worker telephoned for Mr. Swinski, but was informed that no such person was employed there. Leonard A. Barrett He discovered later that Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Swinski were the same person. When asked for an explanation the boy remarked that had he applied for a position under the name of Swinski, he would have been given a menial job, but as Henry Armstrong, he was offered a position that gave promise of advancement. The other case was that of a boy of foreign parentage who spent his leisure time in boxing. He registered for a contest under the name of Bert Powers; while his real name was Boloski. His explanation for the act was as follows: "Had I registered for the contest under the name of Boloski, when my name was called, the crowd would have yelled, 'Kill the war!' but when Powers was announced the same crowd yelled, 'Aha boy!'" Incidents like these occur frequently in the business and social world. The enthusiasm and pluck of many a boy is smothered for the reason that before he can even get a chance to demonstrate his ability he must first overcome a deep race prejudice. If he is a foreigner, that is, has a foreign name though of American parentage, particularly Italian and Polish, he is at once assigned to servile work, while the other fellow, even though he may have less ability, is given the post of honor and opportunity. In this social world which may in some instances overcome the barriers set up by race prejudice, but without this social and cultural values is practically closed to the foreigner and the colored man. In spite of the fact that we desire to enjoy the fruits of civilization, we must go to the product of Italian schools and for art and music and literature we are dependent upon talent other than that which our own country produces.

Theoretically we value that all men are born equal and have an equal right to the opportunities and advantages this country affords; but, does it work out in practice? The elimination of race prejudice does not argue for the equality of advancement regarding ability, but it does plead for an equality of opportunity for all who claim the privileges of American citizenship.

Keen Rivalry In Tug of War

Stone Ridge Will Defend Cup at Fifth Park on August 11—New Paltz Has Already Named a Captain.

Evidently there will be keen competition in the Grange Tug-of-War contest at the Farm and Home Bureau Picnic on August 11. The Stone Ridge Grange has two legs on this cup. If they win this year, they take permanent possession of the cup. It is now on display at the Farm Bureau office.

From present indications the Stone Ridge Grange will not have a free hand. At its last meeting the New Paltz Grange appointed a captain to select a team. New Paltz has one leg on this cup. Every other Grange will probably appoint a captain at the next regular meeting.

News from the World on Wheels

Completing an 18,244 mile journey in just seven minutes less than thirty days in a Roosevelt straight eight sedan, two men from Lawrence, Mass., have returned to Boston, their starting point, after having visited each of the forty-eight state capitals in the country. This unusual as well as remarkable test of automobile and human endurance was made by Leslie Morrison and Norman Neal who had the desire to establish a record of their own, planned and set their goal without outside aid, and proceeded to achieve it. Acting on their own initiative and independent of the Marmon-Roosevelt factory, they selected and purchased, for their purpose, a Roosevelt car in Methuen, Mass. The start of the run was made in Boston June 8 at 12:10 p. m., and the finish came at 12:03 p. m. July 8—one month later, almost to the minute. Foregoing sleep, except for that obtained at irregular intervals in a special compartment of the car where one slept while the other drove, the men maintained an average of more than 600 miles a day for the entire period.

Gilda Grey, who has won fame and fortune with her many dance vibrations, expresses keen admiration for the quiet smoothness of the new Viking, 30 degree V-type eight cylinder automobile. Just another circumstance of opposite types proving attractive. "It's a real thrill to drive the new Viking," says Gilda. "After a strenuous performance it is a treat to take the wheel of a car that is so restful to drive. Not an effort is required, something which any car owner can appreciate."

Mystery of the Rose
In all flowers there is a mystical quality which attracts and captures man, while he cannot understand it. Where comes the rose's fragrance? What is there in it that can give us testing memories of unforgettable things? It speaks some strange and poignant power that summons in the heart of humankind elusive deep emotions.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, July 25.—The citizens of the town of Olive lament the sudden passing of Alva H. Bogart at his old homestead underneath the dome of Tenebe Mountains, which he so dearly loved and where he spent much of his leisure time. Mr. Bogart was a man of high ideals and had many friends. His father, Alva Bogart, who died at his elegant village home in old West Shokan twenty years ago, was one of the town's respected residents and esteemed by all who knew him. He represented the town as supervisor in 1891. Mr. Bogart senior acquired the mountain property of Lemuel P. Winchell, who was one of the town's early residents, having been born on November 8, 1759, and during his lifetime held various town offices, among which were supervisor, assessor, and road commissioner. He was a member of the Old School Baptist Church and was in every respect a worthy citizen. At the age of twenty Mr. Bogart, Sr., came to live with his uncle, Lemuel Winchell. Here his integrity of character, industry and business ability so developed that Mr. Winchell gave him full charge of his business and the management of his farm.

The regular weekly services held at the Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon were well attended by both local residents and out of town visitors. Miss Whye, the visiting singer, again kindly favored with a solo.

On Sunday afternoon the West Shokan baseball club accompanied by a group of local fans, journeyed to Shandaken, where they were overwhelmed by the slugging mountain boys by the score of 15 to 9. We, however, can't expect to win every game, so better luck next time.

Asa Barnes emerged from the depths of the Peekamoose on Friday for a breath of Ashokan reservoir atmosphere. Asa says he hasn't lost a day at carpenter work since he began on April 18. They are at this time making repairs to the old chapel which has fallen badly into decay.

The climatic social feature of the week was the regular dance held on Saturday night at Colange Hall and was again attended by a large and happy throng who crowded to capacity the spacious dancing floor from start to finish. The popularity of Pardee and Allen's old time fiddlin' evidently is largely responsible for the ever increasing crowds attending each week, many as usual coming from Kingston, Stone Ridge, Krumville and other nearby communities. When a square dance is announced the sets are so quickly filled that one has to "step on it" to get a vacant position. The music is snappy and "Dad" Pardee's calling the sets through the megaphone is aces high. What's more they are holding another next Saturday night. As usual, everyone invited.

Michael Dwyer has finished haying and resumed his employment at Traver Hollow. Mr. Lynn has secured the hay on several farms which will occasion a continuation of the work of the haying outfit for some time.

Those who have enjoyed a spin over the two miles of concrete at Shokan, experienced the comfort of a Pullman ride. What an improvement to the washboard road of recent years, but then let us try and visualize the new plank road turnpike of ninety-seven years ago, which was then the last word in road surfacing and the right of way of the speeding coach and four with the driver riding high out in front. Those no doubt were the good old days. But we rather prefer Olive's first concrete roadway completed in the year of our Lord, 1925. A. L. 1925.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Winchell and family of Lake Katrine were entertained at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Davis, Lawrence Junior had the misfortune to fall and break his right arm a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bruchner of West Hurley were Sunday visitors and availed themselves of the privilege of attending the church services during the afternoon.

Elwyn Davis visited Uncle Jake Crispell of Shokan on Saturday afternoon. He was found to be in good spirits, and as usual is always pleased to receive a visit from his old neighbors. Despite his 84 years, his recollection of old time events remains as keen as when they were so indelibly written in his memory long years ago.

Miss Ruth Donohoe of Krumville spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Davis.

Autoists were out in great numbers on Sunday enjoying beautiful mountain scenery. The day was perfect, not a cloud in the sky, and the atmosphere so clear and cool, had almost a tinge of early autumn.

Chase and Elwyn Davis are assisting Ernest Constable with his haying.

A number of local theatre-goers took in the first movie show of the season at Winchell's Hall on Thursday night.

Doctor Dumond of Tongora was a local professional caller on Saturday.

The West Shokan Inn did a fine business over the week end.

The Maple Dell farmers have their haying nearly finished. A large house is to be erected and a swimming pool built on the site of the old mill dam on the farm of John Bell at Broadhead Heights. Ernest Constable states that his services have been engaged to erect the foundation.

Bernard Dwyer of Kingston visited his parents on Sunday.

Charles and Lauren Healey have been putting down a concrete floor in the garage.

Judge and Mrs. Fred L. Weidner accompanied by a party of visitors, enjoyed a lovely moonlight auto ride on Sunday evening.

Soviets May Use Ships to Quarter Children

Moscow.—A number of "floating homes" for homeless children are being planned as part of the effort to turn these vagrants into useful citizens.

It is proposed to use old ships on the Black and Caspian seas and on the Russian river highways for this purpose.

One of the chief problems in dealing with the homeless youngsters has been that many of them run away from schools and colonies where they are placed. The ships, it is argued, will satisfy the roving disposition of such children.

Policeman Designs Tiny Set For Cop On The Beat

Sergeant William H. Burkahl of the Detroit police department equipped with the small receiver he has designed for patrolmen. The receiver fits into one vest pocket and the batteries in another.

Detroit, Mich. (AP).—The radio-equipped patrolman soon may take his place beside the radio-equipped police automobile cruiser as an effective unit in crime prevention.

Police automobile cruisers, in constant radio communication with headquarters, have been responsible for approximately 500 arrests since they appeared in Detroit. Now, Sergeant William H. Burkahl has come forward with the proposal that every man in the department be similarly equipped.

Sergeant Burkahl has demonstrated a receiver of his own design, embodying all of the features of larger outfits, but which can be carried in conspicuously in a pocket.

The set is four inches wide, six inches long, and an inch and a quarter deep. It has two 199 tubes. Batteries are carried in another pocket. Seventy-five feet of aerial are sewn into a cloth to be carried on the patrolman's back beneath his coat. A headphones similar to those used by the deaf is attached to the set.

Sergeant Burkahl has been relieved from active duty to perfect his set and should his experiments prove satisfactory, all Detroit patrolmen will be equipped with the outfit.

Events Around The Empire State

(By The Associated Press)

Albany (A.P.)—The New York State Teachers Association will hold its annual meeting in this city, October 24 and 25.

Utica (A.P.)—James Carey, 22, sent flowers to Miss Dorothy Bowen while she was in a local hospital. Her father had the young man arrested—not for sending the flowers, but for concealing notes in them. The charge was creating a disturbance. At a hearing, the girl's father said he did not want the young man punished, but wanted him "to stay away from the girl." Carey was paroled.

Carthage (A.P.)—Dr. G. D. Hewitt, 32, one of the oldest practicing physicians in the country, has been retired as examining surgeon for pensions, having served in that capacity since shortly after the Civil War. Dr. Hewitt is one of eight surgeons who are Civil War veterans.

Albany (A.P.)—There are 152,634 factory workers in New York City and their monthly payroll amounts to $4,864,000, according to the most recent report of the State Labor Department. Last year, there were 149,400 workers with a monthly payroll of $4,672,000.

Watertown (A.P.)—William Hart, 55, a farmer living near here, recently proved that he still retains the fighting spirit which carried him through the Civil War. Three young men attempted to hold him up on the road and Hart leaped from his wagon and chased them across a pasture. His only weapon was his whip.

Perry (A.P.)—A bee indirectly caused the death of Roy Walker, 55, of Bliss. Walker was carrying a heavy timber when the insect stung him. In striking at it he lost his balance and the timber fell on him, fracturing his skull.

Penn Yan (A.P.)—One of the last members of a vanishing tribe of wooden Indians has been purchased for $100 by an antique dealer here. A year ago the hand-carved Indian was sold by a Montour Falls tobaccoist for $10.

SHOKAN.

Shokan, July 25.—Walter Every and family of Pleasant Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Creigh of Highland spent the week end at the Every homestead here.

Mrs. Frank Longyear of Geneva, in company with her sister, Mrs. Beatrice Lawson of Kenosia, Lake, called on old friends in Shokan one day recently. Mrs. Longyear before her marriage was Miss Rose Kemble, a resident of Shokan in her childhood days.

E. H. Saich and party of New Rochelle were among the many who motored here last Sunday to view the sights of the reservoir section. Seventy years ago, on Sunday, July 24, the people of Shokan and vicinity were privileged to enjoy a number of selections of instrumental music rendered by Miss C. L. Chase, an organist of considerable fame in those days. Miss Chase on Saturday evening took part in the singing class exercises held in the school-house and at the services in the Dutch Reformed Church on the following morning she again played. After the services in the church were over Miss Chase returned to Shandaken township with Captain Davis Winne, who at that time was one of Ulster county's most prominent citizens.

Former residents of this place who have recently visited the old home town include Bert Dibble of Ridgefield Park, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Santi Nadal of Brooklyn.

Any hopes that local farmers may have had earlier in the summer of harvesting a heavy second cutting of clover hay have gone a-glimmering with the many days of dry weather which have fallen to our lot this month. Clover at this writing is very short and sparse, and in some cases will not even be worth much for pasturing down. The small brooks have been practically dry for some time and the situation as regards water and grass is causing the dairymen no little concern.

Edward and Otis Davis, both of Kingston, spent Sunday here calling on old friends and taking in the sights of our live-wire burg.

Among those who attended the Old School Baptist church services were Orville Winchell, John Hasbrouck and Morris Secor and their families from Kingston; Freeman Every of Samsonville Heights and Lester Bell of Phoenixia.

Last Saturday, July 13, at noon, the last section of concrete on the new road was poured and on Monday both tracks were open for traffic as far west as Winchell's store. So smooth is the rolling on this bit of highway that motorists traveling over it find the impulse to "step on the gas" well nigh irresistible and need less to state some very good running time is being made through the village by appreciative drivers.

Charles W. Walton of Albany and Edwin Stanbrough of Kingston called on friends in the village last Sunday afternoon.

Guests at the Longyear House include the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. August and daughter, Dorothy, of Jersey City, N. J.; Mrs. Loth and son and daughter, of Jersey City; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robertson and son, Charles, of Edgewater, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison and daughter, of Flushing; Mr. and Mrs. David di Lima and daughters Dolores and Catherine, of Woodlawn, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. F. Hyferring of the Bronx and Mr. and Mrs. F. Moran and family of Flushing.

The Rev. E. Randolph of Hyde Park preached in the Reformed Church last Sunday morning in the absence of the Rev. August Pfau.

An evidence of the drouth in these parts is the early falling of leaves and nuts from the butternut trees, of which there are still a considerable number left in this vicinity. The crop of nuts is good this year and those who know where to find them will be able to secure a plentiful supply for home made cake trimmings.

On account of the Ashokan mountain road being treated to a dose of crushed stone from the town crushing plant, the Ridge road has been heavily traveled during the past week. The latter road is in fair condition except for an occasional rock sticking up just high enough to give the underparts of passing cars a little dig when straddled. Eventually the rocks will wear down so as to give free clearance—so why worry about that.

John E. Kraft of the Kingston Creamery Company was a pleasant caller in the village last Monday. Friends in Shokan of the genial former mayor are glad to note that he is looking apparently as well as he ever did.

Henry Weeks of Lake Katrine made a week-end visit to the scenes of younger days in the Coons district. Mr. Weeks, always a great walker, has taken on weight since his sickness last winter and appears to be in the better of health.

State Trooper Cashion, who with Trooper Carl Fordham was stationed on the corner two years ago, dropped into the post office last Monday to say hello to some of his old acquaintances here.

Some of the men who have been "working" the one-way traffic for several weeks in the interests of veterans' and other organizations have left for greener fields and pastures new. These fellows frequent highway construction jobs in various sections and thus get the motorist both "going and coming." The boys certainly scooped in a lot of mazzuma for their organizations while doing this particular stretch of new road.

The movies on Tuesday evening were even more largely attended than the initial showing last week. A Wild West thriller provided the feature picture, and the films were run off smoothly and most satisfactorily to the crowd present. A delegation of boys from the High Point camp were among the many who enjoyed the show.

Blackberries are beginning to ripen and with the help of a little rain would make a bountiful crop. The huckleberry bushes also are pretty heavily loaded considering the adverse weather conditions of the current growing season. When our grandfathers were young berries commanded the price of fifty cents for a waterpail full; nowadays one is lucky to get two good quart jars for a fo-bit piece. Whortleberries were a favorite in those days. How many of us know what whortleberries are, anyway?

"SHAG," LATEST DANCE.

IS FOR ENERGETIC.

Virginia Beach, Va. (A.P.)—Sun-backed bathing suits and beach pajamas is the costume, the sands are the dance floor, and the fastest time known to the terpsichorean art, the tempo for "the shag," is the latest test for the energy of summer colonists.

While classified as a dance, the "shag" essentially requires energy rather than grace. It apparently is the embodiment of all the movements of the Highland fling and the late Charleston. Unlike the Charleston, the feet of the dancers are not lifted.

Apply Now to Have Birds Culled

Applications Must be in by August 1st—Work Has Already Started—over 17,000 Handled Last Year.

The closing date for those desiring to have their birds culled is approaching. An extra charge will be made on applications received after August 1st. This must be done so that a satisfactory schedule can be made out.

The Farm Bureau is employing Raymond Dubois of Forest Glen to do the culling again this year. He has been doing the work for the past six years, with a high degree of satisfaction. For the past few years he has been handling approximately 20,000 birds annually. Last year he handled nearly 17,000 birds for sixty-seven poultrymen and received about 4,000 calls.

A very conservative estimate indicates that his service alone saved the poultrymen concerned, $1 per bird or $4,000 in feed costs. This is the chief reason why the Farm Bureau makes the culling of poultry one of its major projects. All the leading poultrymen either call their own flocks or have Mr. Dubois do it for them.

The charges for the work are very nominal. The minimum charge is $2.50 for any flock up to 125 birds. For flocks of 125 to 500 birds a charge of $2.00 per bird is made and all those with more than 500 birds only $.01 per bird is charged.

All members of the Farm Bureau received an application blank to be returned for the service. If there are any poultrymen who would like to take advantage of this service they can make application at the Farm Bureau Office or directly to Raymond Dubois at Forest Glen. This should however be done promptly to save the extra charge and to facilitate the work.

Dog's Double Life

An interesting trait is the Jekyll and Hyde existence led by many sheepdogs, always regarded by us as gentle, man-serving creatures. These, when they take to sheep killing, develop a cunning so extraordinary that they remain by day the perfectly faithful servants of their masters, carefully shepherding his flocks; yet, at nightfall, they transform themselves into villains and steal forth to murder their victims, returning before dawn. Strange to say, a "killer" dog, never slaughters sheep of his own flock. He always ravages the neighbors'.

Ingenious Romans

When Rome was besieged in 536 A. D. by the Goths, the fourteen viaducts which supplied the city with water were cut off. Because of the proximity of the river Tiber the danger of a water famine was not so perilous as that of food, since the mills that ground grain were operated by water wheels. To overcome this danger mills were placed between two rafts securely fastened in the river. The water flowing in the space between the two rafts operated the mill grinding grain.

First Movies

It is said that the first motion pictures were received in New York with very little enthusiasm. They were presented in 1896 at Koster and Bial's Music hall on Sixth avenue. The audience was apparently under the impression that they were a trick advance of some kind in shadowgraphy, which was then very popular. The first movie audience was even more critical than a modern first night crowd and did not even deign to applaud.

Causes of Indigestion

Acute indigestion is caused by eating decomposed canned food or tainted meats, food that is hard to digest, eating too rapidly and not chewing the food properly, or excessive indulgence in spirituous liquors. Swallowing liquids which are either too hot or too cold and overeating also cause the trouble. Persons most liable to acute indigestion are those who live in bad hygienic surroundings, those who are subject to gout or rheumatism, or those who have chronic indigestion.

Really Drunken Animals

It is now an established fact that a good deal of drunkenness exists in the animal world, among the chief offenders being the bees. Lombroso has asserted that intoxicants were the cause of crime among many animals, and has cited instances of the sheep and goats of Abyssinia, which go out on regular rages, eating (to them) the inebriating beans of the coffee plant, and thoroughly enjoying the condition they find themselves in!

Alaskan Rainfall

The precipitation in Alaska is very great. The highest rainfall is at Point Barrow, which has about 5 inches of rain a year, and the heaviest at Letchow, which has about 175 inches.

UNKISSED HUBBIES IN DIVORCE COURT

Experiment in New Style Matrimony a Failure.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Husband and wife, the "unkissed hubbies," have been tried in Los Angeles.

And did it work? Well, perhaps two young men selected for the experiment were not well enough. They appeared in court and asked to be released from their college girl wives and their new style of matrimony. Both were granted divorces on the grounds that they had been defrauded.

The two girls, who had attempted to revolutionize marriage and substitute an ideal platonic relationship sans all caresses, did not appear in court to witness the failure of their experiment.

"It was a great little plan, but that was all," said A. A. Anderson, one of the young husbands.

When he appeared in Judge Leonard Wilson's court he told how he had lived with his wife for two years and had never received a kiss or a caress. "She told me that she loved me, but she just would not kiss me," he explained. "Kisses," she said, "were repulsive to her."

Almost simultaneously Richard V. Watson, a young banker, was relating a similar story in the court of Judge Elliott Craig.

"I met her at a University of Southern California sorority dance," Watson said. "She was the prettiest girl there. She seemed to care for me. We were married in two days."

"Then I discovered her strange ideas about marriage. She refused to kiss me. Kissing was degrading to women; it typified the subjection of the female to the male, she said. I lived with her for half a year and could not change her viewpoint."

Jackson Earned Place

Among America's Great

In all American history, says a writer in Thrift Magazine, there never lived a more interesting character than Andrew Jackson. He possessed a fiery temper and loved a fight. But he took up his cudgels always in defense of what seemed to him a just cause. He fought the battles of the weak and the poor and was relentless in opposing those who sought to take unfair advantage of others.

Notwithstanding his tumultuous life, Jackson early became imbued with the principles of thrift. Beginning life in poverty, he began saving money as soon as he had an income. In the rugged districts where his young manhood was spent, money was a scarce object and incomes were exceedingly small, but Jackson, realizing ever the great value of thrift, managed to save modest sums. He proved to be successful in business and by the time he had reached middle age had acquired what was considered in his day a very comfortable fortune.

HIGH FALLS

There was a high fall in the price of wheat last week. The price of wheat fell from 1.10 to 1.05 per bushel. This was due to the fact that the supply was abundant and the demand was not so great as it had been.

Cloud of Sparrows

Stops Band Concert

Regina, Sask.—Inevitably the stadium side at Estevan, where the Regina Symphony orchestra was called to stage a concert, thousands of sparrows made it impossible for artists to continue. Chirping loudly and flying over the heads of the audience, the birds refused to be driven out until the hall was cleared and a number of the feathered invaders shot.

struck by lightning and burned with all the contents.

Ensemble Gave Fine Concert

At the Tuesday night music concert by The Woodstock Ensemble at the Woodstock Playhouse the audience listened to an excellent program played by Pierre Henrotte, violinist; Armand Combel, violonist; Gabriel Peyre, viola, and Aaron Bodenform, cellist.

The musicians played a quartet from Haydn, a quartet from Borodine, and three pieces from Stravinsky. In the adagio passage from the Haydn Opus 65, Pierre Henrotte played a muted solo in his very finest manner with the other three strings as accompaniment. Mr. Henrotte never played better, and the audience was held rapt for this number.

It was in the notturno movement from Borodine that Gabriel Peyre showed brilliant tone, and the variety of orchestral themes on the four stringed instruments produced a remarkable and long-to-be-remembered orchestration effect. The ensemble here was brilliant and brought long and loud applause from the members of the audience.

For the Stravinsky pieces, Mr. Henrotte introduced each of the three, which he said were not serious. There was a Chinese drum number and a second selection which depicted by sound a battle between bullfrogs and mosquitoes. These numbers, along with the witty introductions made by the leader, delighted the audience and ended this program with the proper denouement for one of the finest recitals yet presented by this Ensemble.

for my housecleaning

Nothing else is "just the same" as OXOL.

OXOL is more than merely a cleanser for laundry use.

True, it whitens clothes, removes stains and makes the clothes spotlessly clean. Yet, OXOL has many other household uses because it is a Cleanser, Disinfectant, Deodorant and Germicide—all in one!

There isn't a room in the house, from cellar to roof, where OXOL can't be used. Nor is there a household cleansing job too hard for OXOL.

So...if you're told something else is "just the same," tell your grocer: "No! I want OXOL for my housecleaning." And insist on getting it!

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, July 25 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets.)—Green peas supplies were abundant on the New York wholesale market today. Prices averaged a shade lower in a dull market. Sales in the New York varieties in 100 lb. baskets were reported at $1.00-$1.25. Washington peas packed in 50 lb. baskets of approximately 50 pounds per basket out at $4.75-$5.25.

Carrot shipments of green peas for the entire country last week totalled 210 cars. They came almost exclusively from Washington and New York state. Shipments of state cut beets and carrots were moderate. The outlet was good and the market lifeless. Price changes were small and unimportant, however, bushel baskets of round beets sold at $1.00-$1.25. Carrots ranged from $1.00-$1.75. Due to the great variation in the quality of Catskill mountain cauliflower prices ranged widely. The demand was moderate. Supplies are increasing gradually. The very finest consignments realized $5.00-$6.00 a crate while the poorest worked out at $1.50-$2.00.

Washington cauliflower brought $2.50-$3.25. California Bartlett pears were in moderate receipt. The demand was fairly active and prices advanced slightly. About 5,000 boxes sold at auction at $4.20-$4.40, principally at $2.00-$2.25.

California pear shipments during the previous week increased to 395 cars, a gain of more than 334 cars from the week before.

The moderate supply of western iceberg lettuce sold readily at higher prices. Crates of 42 and 50 heads brought $3.50-$5.75. State Big Boston lettuce continued dull with the demand only fair. Sales were reported as high as 75 cents and as low as 25 cents per crate of 24 heads. Arrivals of state sour cherries were relatively light. The demand was fairly active and prices on fancy large fruit were sustained without difficulty. Jobbing business of four-quart baskets of red sour was at 65 cents to $1.00. Black sour brought 80 cents to $1.15.

Odd English Bird

Pied wagtails are attractive birds, with bold, swinging flight, says Nature Magazine. Their call is somewhat like their relatives, the plovers, as they fly, then alighting beside a stream or stagnant pool to feed, while constantly wagging their long tails. These pied wagtails of England are clad in contrasting black and white; the white wagtails, more common on the continent, are gray and white.

Colonial National Debt

The national debt was $80,000,000 when the United States government was formed and the debts of the Colonies brought together.

WHY

Cabbage Was Popular With Greeks and Romans.

Of all the common vegetables the cabbage, perhaps, has passed through the most vicissitudes as to reputation. Nowadays, when the cabbage is coming into such high repute for vitamins that specialists go so far as to prescribe its leaves in infant diets the esteem the ancients felt for it seems justified. Greek legend has it that the cabbage spring from the sweat of Jupiter's brow as he wrestled with himself to explain two contradictory oracles.

One writer says that the Romans preserved their racial health for 600 years by the use of cabbage as a cure-all. It was considered good for the stomach and the sinews, to be easily digested and to clarify the senses. If ordinarily eaten, Men took it raw to offset the effect of excessive drinking—that is to sober them after they had drunk too much. It was also prescribed for psoriasis.

Cabbage juice with honey was used by the Greeks and Romans as an eye salve and a liniment made from it was recommended for swelling glands and for bruises. Its juice with goat's milk, salt and honey was a favorite remedy for stiff neck, and taken raw with vinegar, honey, rue, mint and laserwort, it was thought effective for headaches, gout and various other ailments. Preachers took it with raisins to cure hoarseness.

Why Fish Course Comes Before Meat at Table

Who is responsible for the order in which we all eat our dinners? According to historians it is Queen Elizabeth. It was in 1562 that "Good Queen Bess" had a law enacted ordering all persons to abstain from flesh and to content themselves with a fish diet during three days of the week.

This law was promulgated by Queen Elizabeth "for the maintenance of the Navy" and it added that on all fish-Wednesdays one flesh dish might be served, provided there were three fish dishes put on the table for actual consumption. In order to show that they had no disposition to abuse this clause, the docile Englishmen had the three dishes of fish set on the dinner table first, and refrained from serving the flesh until all had shown themselves good citizens by eating that which the law required.—Kansas City Times.

Why Fence Has Lost Meaning

The campus fence at Yale, famous ever since there has been a Yale, is no longer the exclusive institution that it was. Time was when visitors knew that a man was an upper classman if they saw him seated on the fence, but today girls have invaded the campus, and worse still girls sit on the sacred fence. Through an arrangement between Yale and the state board of education, several Yale buildings on the college campus are turned over as class rooms and dormitories to summer normal school pupils, and as a result the fence on the old campus which used to be deserted for three months each summer, now blossoms forth each year with a summer crop of girls almost as soon as the spring crop of men has departed.

Why Diamonds May Be Common

In recent years the Belgian Congo has come to the fore as a producer of diamonds, the yield growing from about 15,000 karats in 1913 to more than 1,000,000 karats in 1928. These results have been attained largely by the installation of improved machinery and the adaptation of better methods of mining. It must be noted, however, that the Congo field is not to be compared with the South African field, either in the quantity of the production or the size and quality of the stones.

Why Termed "Vatican"

"The name Vatican" according to the National Geographic society, "is believed to have come from an old Etruscan settlement, Vaticanum, on the right bank of the river Tiber. At any rate in Roman days before the Christian era, this district was known as Ager Vaticanus, and as the years passed the name came to be attached specifically to Vatican Hill or Monte Vaticano. The region was not considered to be a portion of ancient Rome, but was recognized as a district apart from it."

Why Ships Are Feminine

In some of the older languages, such as Latin and Old German, from which modern languages have been derived, all inanimate objects were given masculine or feminine gender. In this way the moon was feminine and the sun masculine, and among other things ships and other vehicles were generally spoken of in the feminine gender. Modern languages have adopted this same idea. Therefore, the reason for speaking of a ship and train as "she."

Why Birds Can Soar

All soaring birds are enabled to use the wind, due to the fact that the tips of their wings and the feathers along behind the border of the wings are flexible, so that they can convert part of the force of the wind current into an upward push, thus being supported by the wind.

Why Apples Discolor

The oil in the mayonnaise forms a coating on the pieces of apple that excludes the air. Oxygen in contact with apples produces a chemical effect that turns the apples brown or black.

Bathing in Japan

An interesting commentary on the personal cleanliness which prevails in Japan is found in an apology from a native to a visitor because of what he feared would seem personal untidiness. The apology, translated, was as follows: "You see in the summer time we are too busy to bathe more than twice a day." The visitor asked: "How often do you bathe in winter?" The reply came with a typical Japanese smile, "Four or five times daily."

Large-Brained Ancients

Scientists believe they have found the remains of a finely developed, large brained race of men who lived in Africa in prehistoric times. One is never quite sure whether the human race has been going forward all these years or backwards. Perhaps it's a matter for the individual to decide for himself. Do you think you are improving? Do we think better and believe better than we used to? Deep questions, these.—Copper's Weekly.

Not a Seasonal Division

Indian summer is not a season, but is simply a name for any spell of warm autumn weather following a cold snap.

FINDS WOMEN LIARS AND REAL PURSUERS

Judge Looks at 'Em for Six Years and Learns.

New York.—Lovely woman would be shocked to know how she appears to Magistrate Alexander Brough, who has been peering at her with judicial and unbiased mind during six years he has presided over the New York family court.

Magistrate Brough learned about women in court and he tells some of the things he said he learned, though he makes the statement that he does not mean all the women. He's talking of the type of women that come into court. Here are some of his conclusions:

Women are liars. They have no sense of law and order.

Finds Them Unfair, Too. They have no consideration of fairness toward their husbands.

Instead of being the pursued, they are the pursuers, often seeking a wedding ring simply to avoid the social stigma (among women) of appearing undesirable.

They marry a $25 a week man and yell because they can't live on a $20 a week scale.

Given $15 a week as the maximum for the family budget, they will blow $10 on a permanent wave.

They are so lacking in sentiment that they don't remember their own wedding day. They say, "I was married three or four years ago," and that does them nicely.

"Why, a woman was in court yesterday wanting me to increase the payments her husband was making for her support," said the judge.

"Our social workers investigated and found he couldn't pay her any more. When I denied her request, she got so angry she slapped her husband right there in court. What can you do to her? You can't send a mother to jail for contempt and let her children go without care."

"Another woman wanted more money and said she wasn't working. Our investigator knew she was."

"Oh, well," she admitted, "I knew I'd get more money if you thought I was dependent on him."

"And when I threatened her with prosecution for perjury she just laughed and said, 'I don't care.'"

All Have Some Old Clothes.

"They've all got old clothes to wear in court. They all dress to look seedy when asking money. Usually they accuse the husband of going around with other women. I figure the absolute minimum for a man to live on alone is $2 a day. And when he is paying $15 to her out of $30 wages, there isn't much left for other women."

"Usually they try to say the husband's wages are much higher than they really are."

They feel that the courts must give them everything they want. They know all about their rights, but they recognize no responsibilities.

Having relieved himself of these views, Magistrate Brough expressed some of his ideas of what he thinks of the woman who does not get into court.

He still likes to believe that they are ladies riding behind their knights on milky white palfreys, eager to be rescued from dragons and grateful if they are.

Stone Absorbs Noise

A kind of stone recently discovered in Florida has the quality of absorbing noise. The rock is soft and porous and the minute cavities in it prevent the reflection of the sound waves when it is used as a covering for walls and ceiling. The walls acting as a sounding board are responsible for most of the noises that assail our ears when we are indoors.

American Indian Songs
Indians of North America have songs for almost every phase of life, not only for public ceremonies, but also for important acts in an individual's career, as for setting traps, hunting, courting and playing games. Each has its peculiar rhythm, so that without hearing any words an Indian is able to recognize the classification of a strange song. Some of the songs, in fact, convey their meanings entirely without words.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 25 (AP)—Profound reactionary tendencies developed again in today's stock market although a sprinkling of buyers continued to show independent strength. Selling embraced a wide variety of stocks, including several of the recently popular railroads and public utilities. Not declines ranged from one to 19 points.

The reaction was generally characterized as the further readjustment of a top-heavy speculative position. In some quarters there was a tendency to attribute the nervousness on the part of the speculative public to the month-end credit stringency, the war clouds in the Far East and recent bank failures which have not, however, involved any large institutions of consequence.

Call money renewed at 6 per cent but the supply of funds was light and the rate was marked up to 9 in the early afternoon, with indications that it might work higher. Time money rates continued firm.

International Business Machine broke 10 points and Atchafalpa 6. Declines of 2 points or more were registered by a wide variety of stocks, including General Electric, Consolidated Gas, Union Carbide, A. M. Byers, Bendix, Simmons Co., Johns Manville, Burroughs Adding Machine, General Railway Signal, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Union Pacific and Frisco Common.

Wall Street continues to be flooded with stock split-up and merger rumors. General Gas and Electric is expected to split up its stock 4 for 1. Baldwin Locomotive 4 for 1 and American Can is reported to have under consideration the declaration of a 50 per cent stock dividend later in the year.

ORCHARD CLEANINGS

RED TREES FOR EXCELLENT FRUIT

Orange Orchard Too Much Neglected by Farmers.

Orange fruit, either of peaches or apples, cannot be produced satisfactorily unless the trees are fertilized. The average farm orchard is neglected in this one feature. It is not uncommon to find men who think nothing of spending from 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre on cotton, tobacco or other crops, permit the fruit trees to starve for themselves without any kind of help, says E. K. Morrow, horticulturist at the North Carolina state college. "As a result, the trees are low in vigor, the fruit is small and often a good yield is obtained only occasionally. However, the orchard is related to the practices such as cultivation, pruning and spraying. Trees that are neglected will require more fertilization than those in cultivated land; and trees that are neglected will need less fertilization than those that are neglected. Large crops of fruit will need more food or a removal of part of the fruit."

Peach trees should try to get a general growth of from 5 to 12 inches all over the tree and to keep the fruit in a healthy, vigorous condition. Mr. Morrow says the average peach tree should have two to three pounds of nitrate of soda or 6 to 10 pounds of a complete fertilizer during the season, depending on the fertility of the soil and the amount of fruit on the tree.

A good practice is to apply half the amount about two or three weeks before the trees bloom and the remainder after the fruit has been set. Mr. Morrow says the average peach tree should have two to three pounds of nitrate of soda or 6 to 10 pounds of a complete fertilizer during the season, depending on the fertility of the soil and the amount of fruit on the tree.

Methods of fertilizing apples are the same as for peaches. However, the amount per tree is greater as the trees are further apart.

Way to Help Check "Running Out" of Berries

are on the upgrade in the fight against raspberry mosaics and leaf curl.

These two diseases, which do not infect any other of the small fruits like currants, gooseberries, or raspberries, are, without doubt, largely responsible for the "running out" of raspberries.

E. E. Vaughan, plant pathologist at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, says that although scientists do not know what causes the diseases, he does know that mosaics can be controlled. They have found that setting out only the plants that come from certified nurseries and removing diseased plants as soon as any symptoms of the diseases appear is a good way to keep the diseases out of the field.

The state department of agriculture has been making a survey of the damage done by the diseases and as a result of this survey 40 acres are now listed where diseased plants can be bought.

Spraying has not proved to be of much value in controlling mosaics, according to Vaughan, and although scientists believe that these diseases are spread by certain aphids, spraying to control them has been of little appreciable value. So far spraying has proved most valuable in the control of stem spot, a disease common to "black caps."

Nitrogen Is Useful to Increase Peach Yields

The New Hampshire station reports that in the heaviest crop which has ever been harvested at the station, the increase over the check plots to the application of two pounds of nitrate of soda a tree was 24 percent of fruit. This is an increase of 30 percent over the trees that received no nitrogen. For the first time the plots that received no potash produced equally as much as those given it.

Raspberries which have for years received manure applications at the rate of 20 tons to the acre showed practically no response when the amount was increased to 40 tons. About 30 percent more runner plants were produced but a decrease in the number of flowers per plant was observed. A slightly increased amount of the total size of the crop was slightly above that of the plots given other treatments.

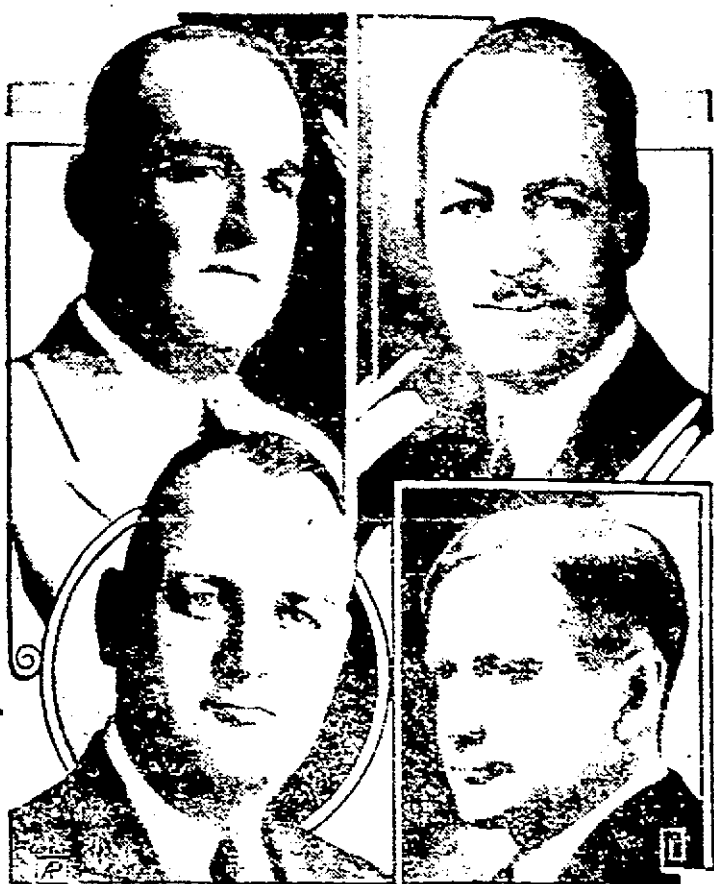

Bordeaux Paste

Ready prepared Bordeaux paste, containing arsenate of lead, can be used in any quantity from one pound up to one gallon per acre. It can be mixed with water and serves well for keeping down insects and diseases on apples, tomatoes and Irish potatoes. Directions for mixing the paste with water are given on the package. As a rule, however, one pound of paste will cover about eight gallons of spray. It should be enough to spray four to five medium-sized apple trees.

Architecture First

Architecture is the most ancient of the arts. The earliest dated architectural remains are those of the Egyptians, from as far back as 4000 B. C. Their building material is brick and they were the first to construct vaults and arches.

Greeks Enjoy Annual Outing

Over 300 members of the Scoville-Varvich Association from the Hudson valley, the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, enjoyed the annual outing of the organization at Forsyth Park Wednesday. It was the third outing held at the local park by the Greek organization and proved as successful as the previous ones.

Games were enjoyed especially by the younger members of the society. Among the happy youngsters was Master Harry P. Gergoulas, son of James P. Gergoulas of the Bronx, who although but four years of age, took part in sports played by boys much older than he. Harry is three and a half feet high and weighs 112 pounds.

There was plenty of refreshments, including a menu of roast lamb and vegetables that was relished by all. Quantities of watermelon, ice cream, cake and soda were handed out during the day and were enjoyed especially by the children. These refreshments were sharpened by the games.

The local men responsible for the menu and good time had, and who were highly complimented for their efforts, were as follows: Anthony and James Nekos, John Stamatakis, James Fondas, Leo Larios, Nicholas Boudikos, Peter Morgan, Thomas Moustarakis and Nicholas Fundas.

Persevere
There is no road too long to the man who advances deliberately and without undue haste; no honors too distant to the man who prepares himself for them with patience.—La Bruyere.

Way Back When
Perhaps this man who died at the reputed age of one hundred and five can remember when houses were so far apart that cabbage for dinner was strictly a family, not a community, matter.

Cities With Wide Streets

Some cities which are known for the width of their streets are Washington, Berlin, Dusseldorf and Cologne, Germany. Many of the cities of Europe have some very wide streets, but also some extremely narrow ones. The above-mentioned cities are noted for the uniformity of the width of their streets.

Manchuria Scene Of Rivalry For Centuries

Typical of the inhabitants emulated by the present Sino-Russian dispute are these patrons of the "hot dog man" at Kyakhta, on the Siberian-Chinese border. At lower left is the junction at Changchun of the Chinese Eastern and Southern Manchurian railways, the roads which figure large in the trouble. At lower right is a view of Harbin, metropolis of north Manchuria.

Catskill Streams Extremely Low

Streams in the Catskill mountains are extremely low and although there is a considerable amount of water running into the Ashokan reservoir the daily withdrawal is gradually lowering the big basin. The lower basin which but a few weeks ago was running over the spillway is now several feet below the overflow.

"Conscience" at New Play House

At the New Woodstock Play House this evening the management will present for its fifth dramatic production of the current season, "Conscience," a powerful drama by George Bernard Shaw. The author, Mr. Shaw, is also director of the Play House and in addition to directing the production of "Conscience" will also play the leading male role, that of Jack Stewart.

"Conscience" was originally produced in New York a few years ago by Al Woods and ran for six weeks springing into immediate fame by showing its unusual characters. It is the Medium through which Miss Lillian Foster stepped into Broadway stardom overnight for her portrayal of the leading female character, Madeline Stewart. This role was played tonight at the Play House by Miss Kathleen Robinson who returns to Woodstock for this engagement at the request of many of the theatre's patrons who were delighted with her work in the recent presentation of "The Chimney."

Supporting Mr. Shaw and Miss Robinson will be Richard Abbott as Doc Saunders, Sara Haden as May Fallow, Albert Lewis as Claude Vance and Frank Emerson as the truckman. Performances will be given also Friday and Saturday evenings. The curtain will rise at 8:45. The Play House is located on the grounds of the Woodstock Country Club.

Albania Today

A Typical Albanian.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

EUROPE's newest king is building a new palace in one of Europe's newest capitals. The king is Zog I (formerly Zogu) of Albania, who stepped to his throne from the President's chair last September; and his million-dollar palace is rising in Tirana which became the seat of government after the World war, when it was decided that the former capital, Durazzo, on the coast, was too exposed.

Until this move was made Tirana was as little known as the rest of Albania is today. Boat loads of tourists drifted down the Albanian coast, stopping now and then at some picturesque island, or at a coastal village.

At Durazzo, they took one glance at the impassable roads to the interior and another glance at the springlike ox-carts and donkeys which were then the only Albanian taxis. Then most of them decided to see Tirana when conditions were improved.

The capital has changed, however, since President Zogu established government headquarters there in 1925. Bus service on the new road from Tirana to Durazzo brings increasing numbers of travelers and the once quiet little Moslem city is making splendid progress.

The mosque, domes and minarets that once dominated the city's skyline are being encroached upon by modern government buildings and legations of foreign governments who recognize Albanian sovereignty. Hotels are also poking their upper stories above the red roofs of old Tirana's mud-walled structures, and new avenues, parks and public gardens have been laid out for the enjoyment of the city's inhabitants and guests.

Market Place of Tirana.

The Tirana market place is one of the few spots in the city that has not been disturbed by the newcomers and there, among the vegetables and fruits piled on the cobbles, roam folk of the surrounding mountains and valleys, apparently unmoved by the changes taking place in their capital.

Both the Ghegs of the north and the Tosks of the south crowd the aisles. Mingling with the lively throngs, one sees a bearded Moslem holy man whose somber robes sharply contrast with the flaming colors of the natives' garments. The Ghegs, three-fourths of whom are Moslems, can be singled out from the rest of the crowd by their gray half-size fezzes which resemble the aluminum lids which keep pancakes warm on American restaurant tables. They also wear loose-fitting, sleeveless, buttonless jackets, tight-fitting trousers and homemade sandals of ox-hide.

The Tosks are less conservative than their northern compatriots. They like ornamentation, and their costumes are colorful. There may be enough silver and gold in their regalia to pay a first-class passage from Durazzo to New York.

The Albanians are a rugged, primitive mountain people who, it has been said, "occasionally" drop from ordinary disease, but more often from differences of opinion. They are classed along with the French, Portuguese and Walloons as members of the Greco-Latin branch of the Aryan race. Their mountain life has fostered a passionate love of independence and they cling to their language and their customs with a vigorous tenacity, even when groups are transplanted to other lands. The name of the Albanians, meaning "people of the snow-land," has been fastened upon them by their neighbors; they call themselves "Skiperi," or mountaineers. One important tribe, the Catholic Mirdites, bitterly oppose the settlement of any Mohammedans in their vicinity.

What Visitors Buy and See.
Tirana is in the west central part of Albania, 26 miles inland from Du-razzo, the country's principal port. Until the outbreak of the World war the only well-paved highway in the country linked these two cities.

The visitor to Tirana can acquire as souvenirs specimens of locally-made brass work, distinctive and beautiful embroideries, done by the Tirana women and sold by them in the market places, and whether a smoker or not, he will wish to take along one of the oddly and intricately carved pipes. The city covers a larger area than its 15,000 or so inhabitants would seem to need, judged by our standards. Yet one would have a difficult time convincing a Tiranian, with his cottage and garden, that a more vertical mode of living, in crowded apartments, would be more civilized. Once one strolls beyond the bounds of Tirana, however, he will encounter mud houses, and the "simple life" to an extreme degree.

An Albanian family is sufficient unto itself. Except for the trading in a few cities—in Scutari, Korytza and Argiro-castro, besides those already mentioned—there is no semblance of an economic system.

A woman in a country district works hard, but she is not mere drudge. She makes bread of maize and cooks it over an open hearth fire. The remaining wood ashes she uses in place of soap. She weaves woolen cloth and plait black braid for the garments she makes of it.

Before the Christian era, the ancestors of the present Albanians occupied practically the whole of the peninsula north of Greece, to the Danube. They are, in fact, the remnants of the oldest race in eastern Europe. The conquest and policing of the region by Rome did not displace these early inhabitants; but when the Slavs burst southward into the peninsula in the seventh century A. D., only those who lived in or fled to Albania kept their blood and customs unaltered by the newcomers.

Their History One of Struggles.
It has been the fate of the Albanians to struggle constantly against some powerful neighbor. First it was imperial Rome, next the Slavs, then Turkey. When Turkish power waned, Albania found Austria coveting her lands. Just before the World war, Austria had succeeded in placing a Germanic prince on the throne of the newly created Albanian state; but this arrangement did not last long. Since the World war Albania has found herself between two forces. On the east and north Yugoslavia has advanced her frontiers to Albania, and eyes her territory with interest; on the west, Italy, separated only by the narrowest part of the Adriatic, has shown a desire to control Albania.

The eastern frontier of Albania, where Italy has charged, the Yugoslavs have been making preparations of a supposedly military character, is much less isolated today than before the World war. Then the region had just been liberated from Turkey and had been little developed. Monastir, second among the cities of Turkish Macedonia, had rail connections only southward to Saloniki, the metropolis. Now a line also extends northward connecting with the trunk railway into old Serbia.

The region about the two large lakes, Ohrida and Presba, midway of the present Albanian-Yugoslav line, was also isolated. Now a new railway from Uskub and the heart of Yugoslavia beyond reaches down to the city of Ohrida on the lake. This lake country of the Yugoslav borderland has both geographic and historic interest. The claim has been put forth for Ohrida that it is "the clearest lake in the world." Fish may be plainly seen swimming about at a depth of 60 feet or more. Dense chestnut forests cover the slopes of the hills surrounding the lake.
